My Story

Woodworking has become a passion of mine, admittedly born out of necessity, when my wife & I moved into our first house in 2015. Needing everything and having nothing, I decided to try my hand at making things. From dining tables, shelves, and eventually a crib, I had been garnering compliments and custom job requests from friends and family.

In 2017, I decided to open an Etsy shop and my side hustle was born. As time went by, the shop steadily grew and in 2019 I mustered up the courage to approach a few local shops around Buffalo to partner with some of my items.

Then 2020 came. Oh yes. I think you know how this part of the story goes. My corporate job was eliminated, and I decided to 'retire' from corporate life forever and pour my heart & soul into the business.

Fast forward to today, 2023: I am fortunate enough to operate a 2,500 sq ft woodshop, employing two others, and we love what we do.

My story is far from finished, and as I venture to expand my partnerships in and around Buffalo, I hope that you will be a part of it.
